The course explores relevant legislation through use of case studies, and reference to current policies/guidelines and their practical application.

Some of the key areas to be covered will include:

- Accountability of Health and Social Care Professionals (CORU and Professional Regulation)
- Negligence and Duty of Care
- Record Keeping
- Information Governance
- Data Protection
- Freedom of Information
- Consent
- Capacity – the current legal situation and the implications of the Assisted Decision-Making (Capacity) Act 2015
- Best Practice in Report Writing
- Witness Preparation and Giving Evidence in Courts, Inquests and Professional Conduct Hearings.
