

The Future Now: New Ways of Working by HSCP in Unscheduled Care Services

12th November, 2018
Richmond Barracks, Dublin 8

Seminar hosted by the National Health and Social Care Professions Office in partnership with the National Clinical Programmes

Seminar Focus

This event will focus on Health and Social Care Professionals thinking and working differently to support patient choice and provide solutions to challenges in unscheduled care services.

Our Objectives for the Seminar

- Expanding our understanding of national strategy and direction for the delivery of unscheduled care services
- Sharing learning from leading keynote speakers
  - Dr. Colm Henry, Chief Clinical Officer
  - Liz Sargeant, Clinical Lead, Emergency Care Intensive Support Team, NHS England
  - Professor John Bolton, Visiting Professor, Oxford Brookes University
- Learning about best practice and innovation in unscheduled care services
- Facilitating breakout sessions to discuss practical examples of best practice in
  - Transforming access to diagnostics
  - How to develop a Home First ethos
  - Lessons to be learned from frailty models
  - How to develop first line practitioner roles
- Offering opportunity to engage in networking and to join this community of practice

HSCP Shaping a Better Future

- demonstrating leadership
- providing first contact services
- embracing risk, supporting choice
- delivering integrated care
- developing communities of practice

Full Programme details will be available shortly.